

HIGHER UPS
TO SUFFER
FOR CRIME

Gov. Cox Gives "Hired Man" of Equity Association Some Hot Shots

EXPOSURE IS PROMISED

The People of the State Revealing Persons Guilty of Disgracing Great Commonwealth for the Past Ten Years.

Lorain, Ohio, July 16.—Governor James M. Cox of Ohio, speaking at the Perry celebration here
today, charged that the scheme to file fake signatures to Green act
referendum petitions was hatched
by prominent Cleveland men and then put in the hands of notorious police characters of Cincinnati to execute.

He declared that in every legislative scandal at Columbus in the last ten years the trail has led to Cleveland and the dirty work has been done by members of the Cincinnati Cox organization. He promised to secure the arrests this time of the "higher ups, who are the real criminals."

The Governor was aroused, he said, by the statement of a "hired man" of the Ohio Equity Association that no guilty person should be granted immunity, and that the association is anxious to see every guilty person punished.

Such a statement was made
Tuesday by Charles S. Gongwer
of Cleveland, secretary of the Equity Association.

"The arrests so far have been
of the lower downs and I want to assure this hired man he is simply working for the higher ups the same as the two notorious criminals
now in Columbus," said the Governor.

"The interests that always
debauch legislatures by hiring
some poor devil to do the dirty
work have always subscribed to the theory that no immunity should be granted to the guilty, the purpose being to prevent confessions by the lower downs who are caught.

"For years every legislative scandal has led to Cleveland, but heretofore the department of justice has been unable to get them
in the net. We had not proceeded with this investigation a day until
the same old crowd was found in this mess. The scheme was hatched
in Cleveland and put in hands
of police characters picked up by the Cox organization in Cincinnati.
The work was done in some instances in some of the most dis-
reputable dives in Cincinnati.

"While it is important to expose and prosecute every guilty man in this perjury and forgery scandal,
the real objective is to reveal to
the people of the state just who

U. S. Ambassador to Mexico
Summoned to Washington
Today for a Conference

Washington, July 16.—Ambassador Henry Lane
Wilson at Mexico City has been summoned to Washington for an immediate conference with President Wilson on the Mexican situation. This action is taken to forecast some important announcement on the administration's attitude toward the Huerta government.
The announcement was made by Secretary Bryan.
Immediately after a conference at the White House
with the president, the secretary issued this statement:
"Ambassador Wilson has been asked to come to Washington to confer with the president personally in regard to the situation in Mexico. The American embassy will be left in charge of the first secretary, Mr. O'Shaughnessy.

Officials here believe that the almost total interruption of railroad traffic between Mexico City and the United States will force the ambassador to make his trip by water. He is not expected here before July 23
at the earliest.

It is believed in official and diplomatic circles that an important announcement of the attitude of the United States in the pending situation will follow the ambassador's conference with the president and Secretary Bryan.

The president's action today, following closely the unofficial announcement that some of the foreign powers which already have recognized the Huerta government were pressing for indication of this government's attitude toward the continued disorders in Mexico, leads to that belief.

Secretary Bryan positively declined to add any information to his brief announcement of Ambassador Wilson's call to Washington. However, it is assumed that the administration desires to learn from the ambassador directly what influence actuated the foreign diplomatic representatives in Mexico when they jointly agreed to address their governments with what amounted to a formal complaint against the attitude of the United States and its relations with the Huerta regime.

President Wilson has kept an open mind on the subject and is thought to feel himself bound to the policy
he has adopted in his administration, lending moral encouragement only to such governments in Latin America as were founded on constitutional law and practice.

However, it was understood that he was ready to give due weight to any representations that Ambassador
Wilson may care to make.

LEAVES TONIGHT.

Mexico City, July 16.—Ambassador Henry Lane
Wilson leaves here for Washington tonight in response
to orders from the state department.

Railroads and Trainmen
Have Agreed to Settle
All Their Differences

New York, July 16.—Representatives of the eastern railroads and of their trainmen and conductors, in joint meeting here today, formally ratified the agreement to settle their differences under the Newlands bill
and sent a telegram to President Wilson requesting him to inform them

when he would appoint a board of mediation and conciliation.
No announcement was made concerning the status of the Erie railroad which recently withdrew from the proceedings, nor did either side
issue a statement concerning the new phase of the situation or the intention of the roads to insist that their grievance against the men be aired along with the latter's request for higher pay.

tion of officers, four addresses, and

ufacture constituted the program for

nual convention of the American Optical Association here today.

WRECKS
WERE DUE
TO FLOOD

Nine Injured in Two
Wrecks on the Ohio
River and Western

TRAIN ROLLS IN DITCH

Three Men and One Woman
Badly Hurt and Five Others Suffer When Two Trains Collide on Same Line.

Zanesville, July 16.—Four persons,
one a woman, were badly injured last night when a passenger train on the Ohio River and Western railroad
tumbled into a ditch at Olive, 40 miles southeast of Zanesville. Five were hurt when two trains on the same
road, one a relief from the first wreck,
collided in the Perryopolis tunnel near Sarahsville, Noble county, and a few miles distant from the first wreck.

It is reported that General Superintendent D. Y. Geddes, Zanesville, directing the repair work made necessary by Monday's flood, is among the injured of the second wreck.

A train, consisting of an engine, a baggage car and two passenger coaches, waited on an embankment at Olive to allow workmen to straighten
a trestle damaged by a cloudburst.
The embankment had been weakened
by the rain and the train toppled over
into the ditch.

The engineer, name unknown, three
broken ribs.
Miss Nora Wilson, Somertown,
bruised.

John McWilliams, Sarahsville, badly
bruised.
The engine was taken to his home
in Woodfield on the work train used for relief. This had gone only a few miles when it collided with a lumber train in the tunnel. Only five were hurt, despite the fact that there were 40 men in the caboose of the lumber train. The injured were taken to Sarahsville.

The cloudburst destroyed all telephone connection between Caldwell
and Sarahsville.

Many Muskingum
Bridges Swept
Away By Storm

Zanesville, July 16.—More than half of Muskingum county's 2,400 bridges
are gone as a result of the March flood and the cloudburst of Sunday
night and Monday morning.

The March flood swept away the bridges over the Muskingum and Licking rivers and destroyed all bridges
on the larger streams. The Sunday night cloudburst completed the job
by starting the small streams booming and sweeping scores of structures
into the river.

To the $10,000,000 of property damage sustained in the March floods
must be added a million dollars or more because of the cloudburst, this latter loss being suffered almost entirely by the railroads and farmers.

Not a single township in the county
has escaped, and many of the leading country roads are impassable because of washouts. Crops on hill farms, as well as those in the valleys are destroyed, and scores of country buildings have collapsed or been washed away. The corn, hay and oats crops,
all of which promised to be nearer normal than for many years, have been ruined. Entire fields of shocked wheat have been swept away, while corn, oats and hay have been beaten
into the ground and buried in mud,
making the harvest impossible.

On the Ohio River and Western railroad, a narrow-gauge road that runs from here to Bellaire, through Noble and Monroe counties, 25 trestles have been washed away, and it is not believed that a train can pass over
this road for more than a week.

At Chandlersville, in the south-eastern part of the county, water in a small creek spread all over the town,
and Salt Creek, in the same vicinity,
rose so rapidly that members of the family of John Lyons had to be taken from the second floor of their home
in boats. Scores of horses and countless head of cattle, sheep and hogs
were drowned in the Salt Creek Valley.

Lightning contributed materially to the loss of farmers. Nineteen barns
and two country homes were struck
by lightning and burned.

It is expected that the great rise
of all country streams, all of which empty into the Licking or Muskingum
rivers, will send the Muskingum
river booming during the next 21 hours,
but a rise of 15 feet will not cause
any damage in this city.

The railroad situation is improving,
the B and O. railroad having opened
west of here at noon, but no trains can reach here from the East. The Pennsylvania trains are running through to Cincinnati, and traffic was resumed on the Zanesville and Western last evening.

INCREASE IN THE
EXPORTATION OF BREADSTUFFS

Washington, July 16.—Breadstuffs
exported from principal customs districts of the United States during the fiscal year that closed with last month aggregated $198,563,235 in value as against $110,542,350 for the previous year, according to figures of the department of commerce made public today.

Exports of meat and dairy products
totalled $126,552,407 against $132,567, 207 for 1912; cotton, $656,858,000;
cotton seed oil, $20,201,431, as against $32,328,388, and mineral oils $134,
504,725 compared to the $110,623,687
for 1912.

These figures say the department
represent only the exports through principal customs districts and do not represent by any means the entire amount exported from the entire United States.

WILL INSPECT
THE ARMY POSTS
AND STATIONS

Washington, July 16.—Secretary
Garrison left today for a trans-continental trip to inspect army posts
and stations with a view to gathering data to be used in his plan for the concentration of the army in important centers and in making up his estimates for war department expenditures to be submitted to congress
next December. He was accompanied by Major General Leonard Wood,
chief of staff of the army, Major General James B. Aleshire, chief of the quartermaster corps, Capt. Bayard S.
J. Schindler and Walter R. Pedigo, his secretary.

RAILROAD TRAIN
ENTERS HOUSE
AS GIRL SLEEPS

Chicago, July 16.—Miss Clara
Maraske was sleeping the untroub-
led sleep of a carefree schoolgirl
early today when suddenly something entered the room.

It was a railroad train. The Maraske home stared straight at a railroad embankment and directly in the path of a freight train which left
the rails, several cars tumbling down from the tracks. One of them
tore through the front of the house.

JAP DEMANDS
RECOGNITION OF
NATIVE COUNTRY

San Francisco, July 16.—Dr. J.
Suyeda, president of the National Chamber of Commerce of Japan addressed 2,000 of his countrymen
here last night on the land ownership question.

"Even if the United States should add the privilege of citizenship to that of land ownership to Japanese,"
he said, "it should only be regarded as a temporary solution of the misunderstandings between the two countries."

"The fundamental solution of the problem lies in the establishment by the Japanese in a matter of reputation for morality, respectability and intellectuality, such as will make the Americans glad to recognize the Japanese as neighbors."

200 ICE MEN NOW IN CLEVELAND STRIKE

Cleveland, O., July 16.—The strike
of ice deliverymen and their helpers
grew in importance today when additional walkouts of city ice delivery
workers swelled the total number of strikers to two hundred.

Officials of the union said that the strike will be general by tomorrow.
As fast as the men are paid off tonight, it was asserted, they will walk
out and will not return to work in the morning. There are about 1,300
deliverymen and their helpers in the city.

Union officials were engaging ice for Cleveland delivery from out of town sources today. They hope by selling ice to aid in supporting the strike.

MISSIONARIES WANT
JAP PROBLEM FIXED

New York, July 16.—American missionaries in Japan affiliated with the American Board of Foreign Missions,
have forwarded to this country
through the federal council of the churches of Christian America a resolution recently adopted asking the council to appoint a commission looking to amicable settlement of the Japanese problem in this country.
The resolution, made public today,
points out that the spread of Christianity in Japan depends closely on the maintenance of friendly relations
with the United States.

STABBING AFFAIR
RESULTS IN DEATH

Springfield, O., July 16.—As a result of a stabbing affair, Earl Mitchell, 122
East Mound street is dead and the expectations are looking for Fred Daniels,
who will be charged with murder in the first degree. Mitchell died in the City Hospital at 5 o'clock this morning. Daniels, who was also wounded,
was taken to the hospital where his wounds were dressed, but he made his escape before the police were notified.
Both men are colored.

GAZAMS CAPTURE CITY
WITH A BIG FESTIVAL
AND STREET PARADE

Nearly Three Hundred In Torchlight Procession
and Exhibition Drill Given by Famous Team

CROWDS THROG SQUARE DURING SHOW

Biggest Affair Ever Given by Order, Say the Officers—
Lodge Ceremonies and Initiation Followed by Social Session and Banquet—Many Speakers.

Well, they've gone and done it—
captured Newark. John Minkemeyer
of Wheeling, Harry Gauding, editor of The Glassworker and the rest of the Imperial Order of Gazams have just deliberately swooped down and "swiped" old Newark. All along the line of march of the big Gazam parade Tuesday night was almost a typical jubilee crowd and
the hundreds who thronged the public square and West Main street
until 11 o'clock when the Gazams concluded their public doings seemed to take on the spirit of things.

The old costumes and grotesque,
tall, pointed head-gear showed like
spooks and witches under the bright
moon which lent its somber flood-
light to the illumination from scores of red candles and piles
of red fire, ignited by enthusiasts
along the line of march.

Newark seldom awoke so completely in broad daylight as she did Tuesday night when marchers were joined by on-lookers in singing,
while the Buckeye Band played

H. W. GAUDING

"Hail, hail, the gang's all here,"
"Hot Time," etc. and one or two others quite familiar to the jubilant crowds.

If anybody in Newark was inclined to doubt that the glassworkers
were in town these past ten days or if anybody formed the impression
that fun was not a side issue to relieve the tension of their busy convention sessions, Tuesday night's doings should easily dispel the error.

It all began when the Gazams assembled in Music Hall for the annual lodge session, called together
by a concert program played in front of the meeting place by the Buckeye Band, under the management of Robert J. Jold. And the last
that was recorded of their doings
was the conclusion of an excellent banquet served in the A. I. C. hall.

There were 281 Gazams in the parade. It is estimated there were 400 present at the social session.

The secret session was formally opened at 8:30 when the famous drill team of the Gazams was escorted to the floor by fourteen members of the order. The drill team in turn escorted to his seat on an elevated platform Wise and Worthy Grand Gazabo John Minkemeyer of Wheeling.

Following the formalities attending the opening of the annual lodge
session, preparations were made for
the initiation of three candidates.
Henry Spitz "White" of Local No.
79, Philadelphia, Pa.; Henry Rea-
her of Local No. 13, Bellaire, O. and Harley Weaver of Local No. 30, Newark, in the order named were given the initiation.

The candidates proved equal to the occasion. They were put through numerous lively stunts
testing their fitness to become members of the Imperial Order of Wise Gazams and there wasn't a moment of relaxation from the uproarious laughter from the assembled Gazams from the time Wise and Worthy Scribe Gazabo H. W. Gauding
began directing the initiation,
until the last candidate had gone
through the program of events.

any time for more than one or two hurried rehearsals. Despite this handicap the Gazam drill team has won distinction as one of the best of its kind known and the recognized leader of all such organizations identified with labor bodies.

Every movement of the team,
both in the lodge work and in the public exhibition drill reviewed by National officers in front of Hotel Warden, national headquarters was precise and timed exactly to the signal of Director Gauding. Cheers
after cheer greeted the evolutions
of the uniquely costumed team of sixteen during its exhibition on the public square Tuesday night.

At the conclusion of the lodge
work at 10:30, the Buckeye band,
wearing the Gazam caps, led the long parade. Next to the band came the drill team in costumes, escorting
Wise and Worthy Grand Gazabo Minkemeyer and other officers of the Gazams, also in costume. Non-official members also wore the tall
Gazam caps.

The parade started with the celebrated "Snake drill," winding the marchers to and fro across the entire width of West Main street to the public square, then in twos and finally in fours the paraders marched to Hotel Warden, where police were compelled to force back the

MAY RELEASE
JOHNS TODAY ON
HABEAS CORPUS

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 16.—Much of the activity in the work of trying to clear up the mystery surrounding the death of Allice Crispell was shifted today to the Luzerne county court
where Judge Fuller heard arguments
on the writ of habeas corpus for the release of Herbert Johns, the mine
worker, who is held in the county jail without bail in connection with the death of the girl. Johns has expressed himself as confident that he will be released.

Johns, who was the acknowledged lover of Miss Crispell, was the last person seen with her on the night of the Fourth of July, the last night the girl was seen alive. Three days later
the girl's body was found floating in Harvey's Lake. The same day Johns was taken into custody to explain
what he knew about the girl's death.
He disclaimed all knowledge of how
the girl lost her life and a coroner's jury after hearing evidence for several hours last Thursday night rendered
a verdict that Johns had no connection with Miss Crispell's death.

The following night, however,
Johns was given a hearing before a justice of the peace, who, after listening to the evidence presented against him, declared that a prima facie case
had been made out and held Johns without bail to await the action of the grand jury.

Counsel for Johns immediately applied for a writ of habeas corpus and
today was set to hear the case.
Johns' counsel bases his action for the writ on the ground that no evidence has been produced against Johns to warrant his being held for the death of the girl. He pointed to the fact that the coroner's jury after hearing all the evidence had completely exonerated Johns from all connection with the death of the girl.

Before the proceedings in court
were stated today District Attorney Bigelow said he would not be surprised if the judge released Johns.
The district attorney admitted that the evidence against Johns is purely circumstantial.

CLAIM FOUL BLOW.

Los Angeles, July 16.—Charles L.
Donx, the French bantamweight
champion defeated by "Kid" Williams of Baltimore last night, was said to be in bad shape today from blows claimed by his friends to have been fouls. Two physicians were called to attend him and found he had sustained a severe injury in the groin.

MOTORCYCLISTS ON LONG TOUR, VISIT NEWARK

Touring the country on their motorcycles Edward Danner and Harry Melvin of Tonkers, a suburb of New York, arrived here Friday afternoon and are the guests of Mrs. Alice Moore in Cambria street. The boys left New York on July 4, and first toured several of the New England States, including Massachusetts, where they visited the Indian Motor Cycle factory at Springfield. Not even a puncture was suffered by the riders and the trip was a delightful one from every standpoint, including that of the weather. The trip enroute to Newark embraced Pittsfield, Albany, Syracuse, Schenectady, Buffalo, Erie, and Cleveland. From the latter city the young men came direct to Newark.

Nearly 200 miles per day was averaged by the riders who stopped in all the principal towns enroute to see the sights and enjoy themselves. The next two weeks will be spent by the motorcycle tourists in seeing the sights of Ohio and in this city visiting Melvin's mother, where the young men are now guests.

After their vacation the young men will return to their positions with the Alexandria Vance Carpet company. Both men are machinists.

BABY IS BOUNCED OUT OF WINDOW INTO FLOWER BED

Upper Sandusky, O., July 16. Florence Miner, 2-year-old daughter of David Miner of Deshler, who, with her mother is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Frank Starr, south of Carey, had a miraculous escape from injury. The bedsprings had been placed on the floor in front of an upstairs window to be aired, when the little girl jumped on them and was bounced out of the window, landing in a flower bed.

The girl's lip was cut and she suffered a number of bruises on her face.

Alfalfa contains larger yields from the crops that follow.

GIANTS AND SOX TO TOUR WORLD

(Associated Press Telegram)

Chicago, July 16.—The round-the-world tour of the Chicago Americans and the New York Nationals became a certainty yesterday when Charles Comiskey, owner of the White Sox, posted a forfeit necessary to assure transportation. The teams will sail from Vancouver, B. C. on November 19, making the trip to the Pacific coast in a special train. Several exhibition games will be played enroute.

So far six Giants and six of the White Sox have announced their intention to make the tour. John McGraw, manager of the Giants has posted a guarantee for 25 persons and President Comiskey for twice that number.

Longpost Hotel is Burned Early Today

(Associated Press Telegram)

Atlantic City, N. J., July 16.—Fire early today destroyed the Devonshire Hotel at Longport, near here. The hotel was partly filled with guests and as the fire made slow headway all were able to leave the place without any one being hurt. Many of the guests, however, lost their personal property. The loss is estimated at $50,000.

TINKER TO AID PHYSICIANS

New York, July 16.—"Doc" Tinker, manager and shortstop of the Cincinnati team of the National league played through yesterday's game against the New York's with the knowledge that within 48 hours he probably would be in a Chicago hospital submitting to a transfusion of blood to his wife, who is seriously ill. Tinker started west today as physicians informed him his wife's condition is so precarious that they have about decided transfusion is necessary.

URNS DOWN A BIG OFFER.

Los Angeles, July 16.—Ed. Mater, president of the Venice Coast league baseball club, today refused an offer of $200,000 for the team and franchise by a syndicate which included John McGraw of the New York National league club.

CASH REGISTER RECORD.

Cincinnati, July 6.—John L. Toth, assistant to the attorney general of the United States has commenced going over the revised records of the proceedings in the trial of John H. Patterson and the other officers of the National Cash Register company of Dayton, to pick out any errors which may have crept in while the mass of documents was being pruned down to readable size. Mr. Patterson and other officers of the Cash Register company were convicted of violating the Sherman anti-trust law. The records will be placed in the hands of the United States circuit court of appeals within the next week or 10 days.

JAKE STAHL IS RELEASED FROM BOSTON CHAMPS

Chicago, July 16. "Jake" Garland Stahl was ousted as manager of the Boston Americans yesterday by Jas. McAleer, president of the club. Though differences, amounting to a serious "misunderstanding" with McAleer, were rumored causes of Stahl's release, both manager and president insisted that the demand of the stockholders for a "playing manager" was the motive. Stahl's leadership technically included today's game. Catcher William Carrigan assumed charge of the team.

Stahl's release was unconditional, and he will give up baseball as a business, although retaining his Red Sox stock and devoting his time in the future to his banking business in Chicago.

He has played few games this season, an injured foot keeping him out of the field. He managed the team from the bench.

In connection with the news of Stahl's release, stories of internal trouble among the Red Sox were retold yesterday. Factional differences, dating from the world's series of last year, were among the causes hinted at in discussion of the manager's release. Carrigan, the new manager, was among the leaders of the faction which, rumor says, was against Stahl. Hints of differences reached Chicago with the arrival of the Boston team a few days ago, but were denied by McAleer and the manager.

Stahl was induced to rejoin the Boston team and assume the management at the beginning of the 1912 season, soon after McAleer became president. Under Stahl's leadership, added materially by his own prowess on the field, the team captured the highest honors of the national game from the New York Nationals last fall.

Not Unexpected.

Boston, July 16.—The announcement that Manager "Jake" Stahl of the Boston Americans would sever his connection with the team he led to a world's championship last season was not unexpected here.

Close followers of the failing fortunes of the Red Sox had been led to look for some such development, as a result of a disagreement between President James R. McAleer of the Boston club and Manager Stahl. The basis of this disagreement, according to some, was the reported desire of Stahl to supplant McAleer as president. The latter was told of a movement believed to be directed toward making Stahl president. When he was asked about the matter, Stahl is understood to have disclaimed all knowledge of it.

It was estimated that with his salary as player-manager of $10,000, his players' share of the world series receipts, and his dividends on club stock, Stahl cleared $25,000 last season.

"Bill" Carrigan, who succeeds Stahl as manager, has a reputation as one of the leading baseball strategists among active players. He is 29 years old and a native of Lewiston, Me. He came to Boston from Holy Cross college in 1906, and has been with the Red Sox since, except for part of the season of 1907, when he played with Toronto.

Vice President John I. Taylor, the only officer of the club in the city, could not be reached in connection with Stahl's resignation.

GAZAMS

crowds to make room for the marchers who formed a circle in which the drill team executed some of its most intricate evolutions. The balcony of the hotel, from where the national officials and their friends watched the doings, was crowded, while pedestrians and automobilists caused a jam that threatened to halt the parade on two or three occasions.

At the conclusion of the exhibition the parade continued on around the south side of the square and out West Main street to A. I. U. hall. All along the line of march red fire was burning, and as the marchers sang with the band, persons along the street joined in the general jubilee with singing, shouts and cheers.

At the hall the band opened ranks while the Gazams marched up the stairs and seated themselves at three long banquet tables which filled the entire length of the hall. After all had been seated, the band played "Die Wacht am Rhine," the banqueters singing it. This was followed by "Where the River Shannon Flows," and finally by "America," with all standing.

The Gazams then partook of the feast prepared by Mr. and Mrs. John Gray and consisting of turtle soup, hot wieners, cold ham, cold roast beef, tomato salad, potato salad, cream and Schweizer cheese, pickles, onions, radishes, bread, butter, coffee and cigars.

While proceeding with disposal of the menu, Director Gauding presented National Vice President J. W. Croke of Toledo as toastmaster. In an eloquent address in which he welcomed the Gazams in their ninth annual convalesce and social session Vice President Croke opened the program of speaking. Several short addresses were given, and the evening's festivities closed with singing of popular songs.

Everybody agreed it was the biggest night the Gazams ever had held, while members and visitors joined in congratulating Director Gauding and officers of the order on the big success of the night's program. The Gazam officers are: John G. Minkemeyer, Wheeling, W. Va., wise and worthy grand gazabo; Robert Luckock, Toledo, O., and Ralph Foos, Moundsville, W. Va., official trail-headers; Edward S. Zimmer, Fairmount, W. Va., wise musical gazook; H. W. Gauding, editor of the Glassworker, Pittsburgh, wise and worthy scribe gazabo, and captain of the famous drill team, membership of which includes the following wise and worthy grand gazooks:

John W. Martin, Moundsville, W. Va.; John Armstrong, Alexandria, Ind.; S. D. Coss, Martins Ferry, O.; J. W. Ludlow, Toledo, O.; Joseph O'Malley, Postoria, O.; John F. Lewis, Medley, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Roy M. Davis, Rochester, Pa.; Frank Klesler, Millville, N. J.; M. G. Bilz, Wheeling, W. Va.; Joseph M. Laurel, Moundsville, W. Va.; H. S. McGuskey, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Frank E. Sigward, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Arthur Elbert, Alexandria, Ind.; Thomas J. Conboy, Alexandria, Ind.; and Paul Martin, Toledo, O., and George Pike, Alexandria, Indiana, wise guard gazooks.

GAZAM SIDELIGHTS.

As a ballet dancer Henry Spitz is sure to prove a happy acquisition for the Gazam entertainment committee. Harry Weaver's buck-and-wing is not overshadowed, however.

Harry Gauding is still hoarse and perspiring, despite the ice water he consumed during one of the initiation lung tests.

Three Gazams were shaved particularly close for the big parade. Gauding says: "This Buckeye band is the best band we've ever had in all our nine years of Gazaming."

President Lowe last night expressed his pleasure that it wasn't his turn to take the initiation. Strange.

McKay of the local committee said it did his heart good to see how Newark greeted the Gazams.

Wise and Worthy Grand Gazabo Minkemeyer experienced some difficulty in getting his potato salad in the early part of the feed, but eventually he got his.

Somebody was running around looking for Col. George Hamilton to take the Gazam initiation last night. Col. George was out of town on a mission of Moore mercy.

Twenty cases of pop for the Gazams, doesn't look like they were a very alcoholic crowd, does it? Twenty—that's the number by actual count.

And say, if William J. Croke isn't a silver-tongued orator, there never was one.

Gauding asked the Irish to sing "Die Wacht Am Rhine." Think of that!

Cedar Point wants that next convention, so it seems. Frank Boekling, the man who put the "Ce" around Cedar point, is here with a smile and an urgent request for the next convention to come to his resort. There's a strong favorable sentiment, too.

Somebody predicted the Gazams would "bait the old town," and it "bears they did it all right."

The courteous, gentlemanly conduct of the delegates and visitors of the annual national convention of the American Flint Glass Workers' union has not been overlooked. It has become a matter of comment and direct personal compliment to delegates through their officers.

There is quite a difference between giving a man back talk and talking about his back.

TAKE CHARLTON TO ITALY FOR TRIAL

Young American Faces Term In an Italian Dungeon.

HOW HE MURDERED WIFE.

Fight Against Extradition Occasioned International Interest and Threatened to Embroil This Country With Italy—Long Fight at Last Ended.

New York.—Porter Charlton, the young American who killed his bride in their villa at Lake Como, Italy, in June, 1910, and who for three years has successfully fought extradition, has been turned over to the Italian government and will be tried for his crime.

In the Hudson county jail at Jersey City Charlton was under espionage which was relaxed neither day nor night in the fear that he might try to take his own life rather than face a living death in an Italian dungeon. He had no visitors save his devoted father, Paul Charlton, former United States judge at Porto Rico; his mother and brother and his counsel.

PORTER CHARLTON.

The crime for which Charlton must now stand trial created worldwide attention because of his groomsman setting and the prominence of the slayer's family. The fight against extradition occasioned international interest and at one time threatened to embroil this country with Italy.

Porter Charlton was a New York bank clerk when he met Mrs. Neville H. Castle, a divorcee and daughter of Henry H. Scott, a San Francisco coal merchant. The wooing of Charlton was ardent and rapid, with the result that the couple were secretly married in Wilmington, Del., in April, 1910. A few days later they sent announcements to their friends and then sailed for Europe on their honeymoon. Letters received by Captain Scott, attached to the coast artillery at Fort Myer, led to the belief that the couple were happy and peacefully enjoying themselves.

On the morning of June 10 the body of Mrs. Charlton was found by fishermen in a trunk in Lake Como not far from the villa the pair had occupied. An investigation was started by the police of Cernobbio, and a Russian named Constantine Ispolatoff was arrested. When the authorities searched for Charlton he had disappeared.

It was at first believed Charlton had met death defending his wife's honor, and the lake was searched for his body. Then it was learned from the proprietor of the Hotel Suisse at Cernobbio that a couple had frequently appeared there and registered as Mr. and Mrs. Potter. They had often quarreled, and on several occasions the woman had been seen weeping. Once the guests heard shrieks, and the proprietor found Mrs. Charlton hidden in a closet. Later her husband dragged her to the street, and the proprietor asked the pair to leave his hotel.

These stories turned suspicion upon Charlton, and the police of the entire world were asked to arrest him on sight. Some of the detectives assigned to the case were more indefatigable than Captain Scott. He swore to be revenged and obtained a leave of absence. Scott thought his brother-in-law might be on the Deutschland and was on hand when she docked.

No trace of Charlton was found, and he strolled over to the Princess Irene. He had never seen the object of his quest, but a man on the pier answered his description, and he caused his arrest. He had arrived under an assumed name, but admitted his identity when his own name was found stitched inside his laundry bag. He then seemed glad that the strain was over.

At police headquarters he made a written confession, in which he said that, while his wife was "the best woman in the world," they often quarreled over trivial matters, and she would call him foul names. The night of the murder she went into a temper, and in a daze he struck her with a mallet he had been using to straighten out the leg of a couch. He then placed the mallet and body in a trunk, dragged the trunk from the villa to a small pier and threw it into Lake Como.

A hog to gain profitably must have plenty of pure water at all times.

Controversy Over the Bryan Lectures Brings Friends to His Defense

Washington July 16.—The resolution introduced in the senate yesterday by Senator Bristow of Kansas, Republican-Progressive, relating to Secretary of State Bryan's salary and his lecture tour created an unusual stir in the senate and official circles.

In his resolution Bristow called attention to the fact that the salary of the secretary of state at the beginning of the government was only $3,500 a year and that it had been gradually increased to $12,000 in 1911, and that none of the men who had filled the office had complained of the insufficiency of their remuneration.

Senators regard the Bristow resolution as the most perfect specimen of irony that has come before the senate in years. Democratic senators, who in private have expressed their chagrin at the statement made by their secretary of state, were furious at the temerity of the senator from Kansas in thus parading in public view the alleged poverty of William Jennings Bryan and calling attention to his plea that the very meager salary of $1,000 a month did not give him a living.

Mr. Bryan replies to unfavorable comments brought out by the resolution, defending his course in making his lecture tour. His statement is as follows:

"I am glad to have the criticism brought to my attention. I believe in criticism of public officials. Criticism is helpful. If a man makes a mistake, criticism enables him to correct it; if he is unjustly criticized the criticism helps him. I have had my share of criticism since I have been in public life, but it has not prevented my doing what I thought proper to do.

"In devoting a part of my vacation to lecturing, I am doing what I believe to be proper and I have no fear whatever that any unbiased person will criticize me when he knows the facts.

"For 17 years the sources of my income have been writing and lecturing, but each year I have made more public speeches, without compensation, and where I have paid my own traveling expenses, than I have where compensation was received. My earning capacity has been large and I have made not only an income sufficient for my immediate needs, but have saved on an average something more than $10,000 a year. In

FOR THE NECK AND SHOULDERS

A Free Prescription That Instantly Obliterates Blemishes, Tan, Tan, Freckles And the Marks Left by High Collars.

The Dutch neck and the collar have been too often exposed to the sun and the elements of high collars, and the result is a tan, freckles, and marks left by high collars. It is easy to overcome these conditions and make the neck beautiful and white and soft and smooth, to overcome, in other words, every blemish and make the box neck as attractive as it is comfortable. This preparation can also be used on the shoulders and face and it is remarkably effective to beautify the face and arms.

If you want to try it, go to your druggist and get one ounce bottle of KUBIX Compound. Pour the entire contents into a two-ounce bottle, add quarter ounce with honey, then fill with water. Rub this on the neck and face.

One application will delight you. It is deliciously cool and soothing and it is not affected by perspiration. It will not rub off.

If you put it on one hand only, on one side of the neck and note the difference, you will see the wonderful change it makes instantly. The results are immediate and continued use of this preparation will keep your skin as soft and smooth as a child's. (Advertisement)

DEFENSE FUND DESCRIBED TO LOBBY PROBERS

Washington, July 16.—A fund of $500,000 to $700,000 a year was raised by the National Council for Industrial Defense—an adjunct of the National Association of Manufacturers—for opposing legislation the manufacturers did not favor, was described to the senate lobby committee today by Martin Mulhall. Mulhall testified he had no personal knowledge of the existence of such fund but declared that a collector for the organization had recently given those figures to the New York World.

"I often have thought and have suggested," said Mulhall, "that the council ought to be investigated by the postoffice department. If it were investigated, I feel that the gentlemen who run it, would have a hard time accounting for the money collected. The committee did not question Mulhall further on the subject.

Mulhall swore that once he had been paid to him from the fund for political purposes, but did not explain what the purposes were.

In January, 1908, Mulhall received a letter from former Senator Foraker, suggesting that he visit Cincinnati "for a short interview."

He testified he made a written report to Foraker showing "how the senator stood among business men in and about Cincinnati." He did not testify whether the report was favorable. Foraker wanted to know if he would stand a chance to be re-elected to the senate and was still thinking about a presidential boom.

GLASSWORKERS HOLDING BUSY SESSION TODAY

The business session of the national convention of American Flint Glass Workers Wednesday was all astir with hope of early committee reports. Several of the committees have made known that their reports are practically complete, and some are to be presented Thursday morning.

While committee reports constitute the most important business of the convention in point of interest to the tradespeople those having to do with wage conditions will likely attract the most interest from the outside. Harmony has prevailed in the convention so far, and it is be-

COL. GEORGE HAMILTON. Active member of Local No. 30, who has a warm spot in his heart for all Flints. He is away on a lecture trip.

Heved the committee reports will be adopted practically as submitted.

Cedar Point put in its bid for the 1914 convention Wednesday, making the third active contestant for next year's gathering. Favorable comment is to be heard on the Cedar Point proposition despite the fact that Beaver Valley boosters are thick and Indianapolis is still in strong favor.

One of the faces missing from the convention in its recent session is that of Col. George Hamilton, well-known to the Glass Workers and a member of Local No. 30, whose activities were largely responsible for bringing this year's convention to Newark. Mr. Hamilton is a national lecturer for the Loyal Order of Moose.

CONFIRMS REPORT OF MASSACRE

Saloniki, July 16.—Full confirmation of the reported sucking and burning of the Macedonian town of Seres by the fleeing Bulgarian troops and of the execution, hacking to death and burning alive of many inhabitants has been sent to the Austro-Hungarian government by Consul General August Krul of Saloniki.

Three-fourths of the former flourishing city of about 30,000 inhabitants is a mass of smoking ruins, says the consul general who has just returned here from Seres, where he thoroughly investigated the situation.

Another horrifying story of massacre reached here today from Doiran, a town 40 miles to the northwest of Saloniki. Musselmans there have made a written declaration, countersigned by three local Bulgarian priests that the Bulgarians slaughtered 30,000 Musselmans who had sought refuge in Doiran from the surrounding country.

Gray Hair Makes You Look Old--Use a Little Sage Tea

Says Sage and Sulphur Darkens Hair Beautifully and Ends Dandruff.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair, says a well-known local pharmacist. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and even today this simple preparation has no equal. Millions of women and men too, who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive use only Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Nowadays we are not bothered with the task of gathering the sage leaves and the mussy mixing at home. Simply ask at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of the ready to use preparation, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." Customers like this best because it darkens so naturally; so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it contains ingredients which take off dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. No, it isn't a dye or even like it. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application, if two it is restored to its natural color.

What delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that besides beautifully darkening the hair they say it brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance. Hall's Drug Store, 10 North Side Square, agent.

DEMAND FOR PROBE BY NEXT
LEGISLATURE

In view of the great public scandal connected with the fraudulent referendum petitions against the Workmen's Compensation law, there is a demand throughout the State to know the character and business purpose of the Cleveland concern known as the "Equity Association."

The concern is certainly a misnomer, for it has been caught red-handed in very disreputable business, the very opposite of anything in the line of equity. The next session of the Legislature should take immediate action to institute a probe into the nature of the business of any concern that stands charged as an employer of men to annul and destroy by scandalous methods one of the most upright and humane laws ever placed on the statute books of Ohio.

One of the first duties of the next legislative session will be to provide for an immediate probe into the real nature of such business concerns as the so-called Equity Association of Cleveland. The Ohio State Board of Commerce is another concern of which the people should have some real knowledge as to its purposes.

The next special session of the Legislature should get busy the first day it meets.

Let all such rotten frauds be exposed right and proper.

LIABILITY
INSURANCE
MONOPOLY

When the state took over the monopoly of liability insurance in adopting the Green compulsory workmen's compensation law, it was compelled to do so on account of the abuses that had arisen. When private companies were writing this insurance their object was to make as much money out of it as possible and the injured workmen never got any compensation until after they fought for it in the courts for years and then after paying lawyer fees and court costs had very little if anything left. When private companies did the insuring it was to their interest to see how little they could settle for. With the state there is no interest in the matter except to see that the workman or his dependents are paid full amount due and as quickly as possible. The companies are looking for dividends; the state is looking to the interest of humanity.

The private insurance company was the enemy of the injured workman and his family in all the litigation that inevitably followed.

Wisdom from Washington

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 10. (Special.)—The Democratic method of appointing committees is not the best way if every speaker is fair. The old way brought about better results, but it also brought punishments for men who "bucked" the "house management" or who displeased the speaker. Many good men have been deposed from good committees because they had incurred the ill will of the speaker or had been "insurgents" against the "powers" in the house.

All this will be brought out in the coming sweeping investigations. It will not amount to very much. It will show that speakers are human; that they form committees to kill measures they do not want passed and to promote those they want put through. But this very thing has finally resulted in shearing the speaker of his power in the house. It has taken away from him the power to punish as well as to promote. And as the investigation proceeds the members of congress will be more and more impressed with the belief that the change must be permanent.

A Lot of Ancient History.

These investigations have produced more ancient history, most of it unimportant, than anything that has been attempted in a long time. The determination of congress to prove itself and its members beyond the reach of corrupt means and methods has induced them to provide a dragnet so wide and so deep that everything that ever happened can be drawn up in it and panned over and discussed. It does not seem to matter that most of the events have been known, commented upon and laid aside. The fact that a congressional committee digs them up seems to give them a passing interest.

More White House Rooms.

President Wilson has found it necessary to have more rooms provided in the White House. Up to the time Roosevelt became president the White House accommodated the family of the president and also the executive offices. Now the executive offices are well filled with employees, and the White House, purely as a residential proposition, seems not quite large enough for the president, his family and guests. However, the changes which Mr. Wilson is having made simply utilizes space heretofore unoccupied or used for storerooms.

Shafroth's Early Recollections.

"When I first came to Washington as a member elect of the house of representatives," said Senator Shafroth of Colorado, "a newspaper man did me a great favor. He told me that when I had a bill pending, no matter what stage it was in, to keep everlastingly behind it or it might get lost. By following his advice I was able to pass a very important bill before I really became a member of the house."

Stays on the Job.

Congressman Austin does not go home during the long recesses of the house. "As long as congress is in session, if only nominally part of the time," said the Tennessee member, "I prefer to remain here. My constituents have a habit of dropping into Washington with something they want done, and they want their member to look after them. I can do better work for them here than if I was home."

"Acting President."

There is never any "acting president." But every time a president is out of the city the statement is made that some cabinet member is "acting president." The constitution provides that the vice president shall become president when the president dies or is incapacitated, but there is no provision for any person to act when the president is away from Washington. Moreover, the president always attends to all necessary duties, even if he is away from the capital.

Ought to Be Effective.

If that resolution under which the house is investigating lobbyists is not complete it is not the fault of consideration. It was considered at some length before going to the committee on rules. That committee had two or three days with it and then the house debated and amended it for two days before passing it. If anything was omitted or any loophole left it was not because it lacked deliberate and careful consideration. And the impression is that nothing will be allowed to escape the investigators.

The President's Influence.

People believe that the influence of the president will avert a great and costly strike. Nearly everybody can remember that in 1902 the intervention of Roosevelt stopped a most disastrous strike in the coal fields and gave the people coal for the winter. When a president takes a hand in any great controversy involving a conflict between capital and labor there is an inclination to give heed to his efforts.

The Cat.

is all I've got around my cot on which I don't pay taxes. They tax me up for my meek pup that's harmless as a robin; they tax the cow, the short-horn sow, and even poor old Dobbin. And so I say again today, with wholesome indignation, in language warm, we should reform our system of taxation.

The old gray cat that haunts my flats is idle, vain and vicious; on silent feet he steals the meat, and swipes the cream delicious. A mile he'll rush to kill a thrush, but let the rats be round him, and he'll stretch himself to catch a single one, confound him. To hug the fire is his desire in every kind of weather; by night he howls like fifty owls, and swears for hours together. The lazy freak is such a sneak he'll never gain my pardon; he brings strange cats, all lugs and slats, to visit in the garden. All useless things he does, by jings, but nothing that is helpful; he breaks my dreams with midnight screams, and scraps with how-woos yelpful. Throughout the town the people frown whenever they behold him; they'd like to kick him in the creek, with divors bricks to hold him. And this old brute, this gray gaiter, that by my fire relaxes, is all I've got around my cot on which I don't pay taxes. They tax me up for my meek pup that's harmless as a robin; they tax the cow, the short-horn sow, and even poor old Dobbin. And so I say again today, with wholesome indignation, in language warm, we should reform our system of taxation.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

A Milk Diet.

There are beauty and health in every glass of milk. It is a sovereign remedy for many ills. For the thin girl a glass at meal-time is not enough to give her the beautiful arms and shoulders she desires, but glass after glass must be taken until three, four or even six quarts are the daily portion. The more nervous and run down the condition the more milk is needed. It should always be sipped slowly and never drunk when in a dried or overheated condition.

MARINE BAND TO TAKE TOUR.

President Wilson has just given his consent that the famous United States Marine Band may go on tour this fall. This is the official White House musical organization, which plays at all of the state receptions and dinners. Its tours are limited to a few weeks and never more than once a year. Authorities at Washington have indicated that Central Ohio will be included in this tour.

Variety of foods should always be found in the chickens' ration.

Mr. Bear Granted Because of the Heat.

Daddy's Bedtime

Mr. Polar Bear Gets What He Deserved.

WITH a hop, skip and jump Jack and Evelyn reached daddy's side.

"Was it warm here today?" daddy asked.

"You just believe it was," Jack replied.

"Why, it wasn't so very warm," Evelyn answered. All afternoon she had been sitting in a cool corner of the porch making doll's clothes.

"We seem to differ about the heat," daddy remarked, smiling. "It could scarcely have been both hot and cold at the same time. Perhaps if Jack had sat down quietly as Evelyn did he would not have felt so warm."

"And while we are talking about heat let me tell you how happy the lions are at the zoo. They have been moved from their indoor house to the cage outdoors. There they can sit and doze all day while the crowds stare at them and admire the baby lion or remark on what a handsome fellow Mr. Lion is."

"The lions do not mind the heat. All winter they have shivered, while the polar bear, who has a cave all to himself, has strutted about in his heavy fur coat and told every one what fine weather it was. Of course, being indoors, the lions and bears do not see one another in the winter, but when summer comes and the park officials move the lions outside they can talk over their troubles together."

"One of the first things Mr. Polar Bear said to Mrs. Lion when they came out this year was, 'Your son would be a nice looking youngster, ma'am, if his coat were white instead of that dingy brown.'"

"White coats are not the fashion in the lion family," Mrs. Lion replied stiffly.

"After that there was a coolness between the lion house and the polar bear cave for some time, not a coolness that the thermometer takes any notice of, but the kind that makes folks turn up their noses at one another and scarcely speak to one another when they pass."

"Then there came a dreadfully hot spell of weather, and Mr. Polar Bear in his white fur gown and grunted and was so hot that he scarcely knew what to do. He would go down into the little pool of water inside his cage and turn around until all of his fur was wet."

"The lions were not suffering at all. They seemed to like the weather lions, you know, come from hot countries."

"There is some comfort in wearing tan clothes," Mrs. Lion remarked to her husband; "one can keep neat and cool in them. Isn't that polar bear an old tramp in his soiled white suit?"

"And Mr. Polar Bear, who heard her, wished that he had not been so nasty about the looks of the young lion."

It is one thing to make soda crackers that are occasionally good.

It is quite another thing to make them so that they are always better than all other soda crackers, always of unvarying goodness.

The name "Uneeda"—stamped on every biscuit—means that if a million packages of Uneeda Biscuit were placed before you, you could choose any one of them, confident that every soda cracker in that package would be as good as the best Uneeda Biscuit ever baked. Five cents.

Hyman, Husbands and Ideals

HOW do you account for the high divorce rate?" Inquired Solomon, of Hymen, as he met the god of marriage blithely strolling along the Milky Way humming the Epithalamium which had been set to music by Pan—Peter Pan as the gods had taken to calling him, "any way, it doesn't seem to worry you much."

"Oh, no," replied Hymen, cheerily. "People have to get married you know, before they can get divorced. And usually, they only get divorced in order to get married again. I don't know but that it improves business."

"But don't you think so many divorces will in time make people a little shy of marriage, and thus eventually put you out of a job?"

"Never locate the divorce court while you are buying the engagement ring," rejoined Hymen.

"To be sure, I was never troubled with it in my time," reflected Solomon, speaking of it as if it were a contagious disease.

"No, nor people wouldn't be today, if they would use a little more horse sense. If women would stop trying to make their husbands fit their ideals, and make their ideals fit their husbands, there'd be a good many less divorces."

"But think how painful it is to cut and alter your ideals," remonstrated Solomon. "It's much less wear and tear on your nerves to get a divorce, especially in some states."

"That's true. But think how painful it is to the husband to be jabbed and punched until he fits an ideal. There's two sides to every question."

"That's true," admitted Solomon.

"A husband has feelings and an ideal hasn't," went on Hymen, judicially. "And—"

"An ideal, it is true, hasn't feelings," interrupted Solomon, as if weighing an important case. "But the wife has feelings associated with the ideal and—"

"Hypothetical," broke in Hymen. "Entirely hypothetical. That's just the point. The husband's feelings are real. It's a case of trying to cut and shape flesh and blood, to make the husband fit the ideal. But the ideal is after all an imaginary thing. The wife's feelings about it are purely imaginary. And so it cannot be so painful to her to change her ideals, as it is to the husband to change him."

"I don't know about that," remarked Emerson, who had strolled up and stood listening. "Ideals are sometimes very real things. They are often the motive power of life. To cut and slash and change them is to kill a certain part of one's self, often the better part. I don't agree with you, Hymen."

"One could hardly expect you to make such a change," replied Hymen, respectfully, for the Sage of Concord was held in high esteem, throughout the star worlds. "I know you would hold to your convictions, whether other people came around to them or not. But then, yours would be worth holding to. There would be sense in your beliefs. But the ideal many a woman fashions of a husband is utterly impracticable. And yet because he doesn't live up to it, she declares marriage a failure. No man of flesh and blood could live up to what some women expect of him. Therefore I say that if instead of trying to make husbands fit these impossible ideals, they would have sense enough to change their ideals to something human and feasible—notice I don't say lower them—" he asserted glancing anxiously at Emerson, for he was desirous of making a good impression upon the philosopher, "but make them practicable."

"An ideal at first never seems practicable," interrupted Emerson. "It has to be measured up to. That's its value."

"Well," observed Solomon, as he started on, "I'm glad my wives had no such foolish notions. Imagine some seven hundred or so of them trying to make me fit their ideals. I'd have had a pleasant time, wouldn't I? As soon as Pharaoh's daughter got me fixed to suit her, my pet Moabites would want to mold me over to her taste. And by the time she was through with me, some daughter of Zidon would take me in hand. I would never have known whether I was going or coming. Not for little old Solomon. I was too wise to let anything like that get started." And jauntily humming one of his songs, he fared onward to the tea being given that afternoon by the Queen of Sheba.

SLIT SKIRTER COMES TO GRIEF A LA NEWARK

Richmond, Va., July 16.—On a warrant charging indecent exposure, Mayor Ainslie and Police Chief Werner made the first arrest here for the wearing of slit skirts. Blossom Browning is the name the young prisoner gave at the station house. Women friends bailed for her appearance in police court.

The girl contends that her dress was the fashion, was bought in a licensed department store and suited her taste, and she has retained counsel to defend her.

BLOSSOM FINED $25.

(Associated Press Telegram) Richmond, Va., July 16.—Blossom Browning paid a $25 fine in Judge Crutchfield's court here today for wearing a slit skirt, and declared she intended to go to New York at once "where people are not prudish." She was charged with indecent exposure. The skirt slit knee high and held by the police as evidence was restored to Miss Browning on her promise to sew up the slash or not to appear again in the streets of Richmond without a petticoat.

Miss Browning's lawyer argued that the sale of the skirt by a licensed department store permitted her to wear it. Judge Crutchfield replied that a city license for the sale of fire arms did not authorize murder. The justice after an inspection of the offending skirt blushing-fined the defendant, who paid with the retort that "Richmond was a most illiberal city."

Justice Crutchfield's court was packed with the most select audience it had ever held.

UGHT TO HAVE WITNESSED THE SHAPELY DISPLAY.

At Newark where the liquor laws were openly defied during the late dry spell, a woman was arrested and fined for wearing a slit skirt. That's going some for Newark!—Upper Sandusky, O., Union-Republican.

If the bachelor editor of the newsy disseminator of truth and veracity in the old Indian village had only seen that slit and what was underneath it he would have turned his head and blushed for shame. That is, probably he would, for it didn't affect others that way. An open work silk stocking, a handsome pair of garters, or whatever the modernized term may be, visible above the knee and soft, clinging lingerie attracted a crowd that followed the handsome young miss about the square until the watchful eye of a Newark police official stopped the display by ordering the patrol and sending the slit skirtier over to the station house.

In April thirty-seven sets of twins and three sets of triplets were born in Texas.

IMPROVEMENTS WILL BE MADE GRAND THEATRE

The Grand moving picture theatre, which closed its doors to the public on last Saturday evening, is now being remodeled under the direction of the manager, A. L. Thomas. This popular theatre will be completely remodeled and will be made to accommodate 500 people. The extra large lobby in the front of the theatre will be cut down to regulation size to accommodate the enlargement of the theatre proper and will be fitted with a tile floor. The front of the theatre as well as the inside will be remodeled. A marble base will be added and a new tile floor and electrical effects will improve the attractiveness of the front.

On the inside the ceiling will extend up to the second story for one half the length of the room making the distance from the floor 27 feet. The other half of the upstairs will be converted into a balcony where the moving picture machine booth will be situated.

The booth will be the only one of its kind in the city and will be imported from Germany, being made of asbestos and absolutely fireproof. In the booth will be installed two new Powers 6-A moving picture machines. A novelty in the way of radium gold fibre screen will be added, the exclusive rights for the city having been procured by Mr. Thomas.

The theatre will be the only one in the city in which the direct current system is used and the mercury arc rectifier will be soon installed. The direct current is much more satisfactory than the indirect and when it is used there is no jump in the picture. Mr. Thomas expects to open the theatre in four to six weeks.

Instant Postum

fills the bill exactly.

This new food-drink tastes much like high-grade Java, but possesses the merit of being healthful, pure and absolutely free from the coffee drug—"caffeine"—which is the cause of much of the heart, stomach, liver and nerve disorders with which so many coffee drinkers are afflicted.

Fill out and mail the above coupon (enclosing 2c stamp for postage) and we will send you a miniature tin of Instant Postum containing enough for 5 cups.

Postum comes in two forms.

Regular Postum (must be boiled.)

Instant Postum doesn't require boiling but is prepared instantly by stirring a level teaspoonful in an ordinary cup of hot water, which makes it right for most persons.

A big cup requires more and some people who like strong things put a heaping spoonful and temper it with a large supply of cream.

Experiment until you know the amount that pleases your palate and have it served that way in the future.

HIGHER-UPS

it is that has been disgracing the commonwealth for ten years. That is what we intend to do. I can conceive of no higher function of my office."

Gov. Cox in his Perry speech used 100 years of peace with Great Britain and Canada as his theme. He declared it one of the greatest peace signs of the age that the 4,000 mile boundary line between this country and Canada is unmarred by a single soldier or gun.

Turning from the national peace to industrial peace he took up the subject of workmen's compensation.

"Workmen's compensation such as is provided in the Green law in this state will do more to maintain industrial peace than any other agency in the last generation," he declared.

The Governor came here from Cleveland this morning.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 16.—At a conference last night at the Cleveland Athletic Club between Governor James M. Cox, County Prosecutor Cyrus Locher and State Labor Commissioner Fred Lange, of Cleveland, plans were laid for the prosecution of alleged Cleveland grangers in Green compulsory workmen's compensation act referendum petitions.

Lange, who has had in charge the investigation of the Green law referendum petitions here, came to Cleveland yesterday afternoon with sufficient information he announced, for affidavits against six Cleveland grangers and others who had in charge the securing of signatures here.

This information, in a general way, was turned over to Prosecutor Locher. Wednesday morning Lange and Prosecutor Locher will make a careful analysis of the information in Lange's hands, and a line of action will be mapped out.

Large confidently stated that he has sufficient evidence upon which to base half a dozen arrests. The arrests, he said, may be expected today if the men in question can be found.

Governor Cox corroborated the statements of Lange. He said that enough fraud had been revealed in the Cleveland referendum petitions to make a majority of them at least appear to be worthless.

Governor Cox declared he was not opposed to a referendum on the Green bill.

"I am not against a referendum on the Green workmen's compensation act," said Cox. "But when the law says the petition shall contain the signatures of 6 per cent of the voters, I don't propose to allow a referendum on request of 1 per cent."

The governor advised an amendment preventing circulation of petitions for pay. He did not state how he arrived at the conclusion that the petitions contained but 1 per cent of the voters.

Many of the petitions investigated, he said, evidently were copied from a directory or roll book. At least, he added, the names on many of the petitions were alphabetically arranged.

On the other hand, officers of the Ohio Equity Association, an organization of business interests, which has been back of the effort to obtain a referendum vote on the Green law, maintained their previous position that, while in such a vast number of signatures, some fraud might be expected, the whole affair, so far as the state administration is concerned, is a "gigantic frame-up."

"Officers of the Ohio Equity Association who are the most searching examination of this work and the purshing of all guilty persons involved," said Charles S. Gorgwer, secretary of the association. In a statement issued last night, "The association, however, demands that immunity be not granted to any guilty person, and it believes that in this public sentiment will concur."

Cincinnati Probe.

Cincinnati, O., July 16.—C. C. Marshall and R. E. Dempsey, Assistant Attorneys General of Ohio, came to Cincinnati yesterday at the request of the governor, and were closeted for some time with Chief of Police Kaplan and Chief of Detectives O'Connell, outlining a plan of investigation which they will pursue here in certain phases of the referendum frauds.

Following the conference Mr. Marshall stated that their object in this city is to corroborate the confession of William Martin, arrested recently in Cincinnati, with reference to names which were allegedly listed to the petition in Hamilton and Butler counties. The men will remain here for several days, and will then go to Hamilton, O.

Mr. Marshall stated that in his commission Martin said that the Butler county petition contains 7200 names, all of which he believes were listed in Cincinnati. A number of arrests are looked for here in the near future. At the investigation of Governor Cox, if any large number of arrests are made here, the conduct of the notaries before whom the petitions were signed will also be investigated, which may also result in arrests in that direction.

Few Names Valid.

Columbus, O., July 16.—Out of 200 names of Cincinnatians taken from the Green workmen's compensation referendum petitions by Charles H. Wirmel, steam boiler inspector, only ten were found to be valid and genuine, according to a statement made by Mr. Wirmel on his return from Cincinnati. He asserted that his investigation disclosed that 200 never signed the petition and 30 were not at home at the time they were set down as having signed.

It is known here that five warrants have been issued for Cincinnatians, and that arrests are to be ordered within a short time. All are to be accused of forging petitions.

City Directory Used.

Hamilton, O., July 16.—Charles C. Marshall, an assistant to the attorney general, was in Hamilton yesterday looking up evidence in the referendum scandals in which some 9,200 names from Butler county was fraudulently signed. He learned that Samuel Liebman secured about 400 names from a city directory. Liebman admits securing the names, but says he did not know what they were to be used for, and was led to believe by the man who hired him, that they were for a small mail order house.

GRANGE WILL ABANDON THE REFERENDUM

Columbus, O., July 16.—It is now finally settled that there will be no referendum on the Cunningham Agricultural Commission bill. Word to this effect was received by State Judge and Food Commissioner S. E. Stride in a letter from the secretary of the State Grange, which was behind the referendum project.

While masters of county granges advised against the referendum several weeks ago, it was not until a few days ago that the State Executive committee took action at a meeting in Cleveland.

The resolution ordering the referendum petitions printed and circulated was rescinded, and it was determined that the new plan should be given a try-out. Work of getting signatures was immediately halted. In the action every member of the committee concurred except L. G. Spencer of Niles, who is unyielding in his opposition.

It is understood that the work of getting signatures was progressing very slowly.

The innovation has never been popular in the rural districts, many farmers opposing the placing of salaried officials instead of officials who served for nothing, but referendum petitions have become unpopular and the work of getting names laborious. Mr. Stride has claimed from the start that the so-called referendum held by the State Grange, among its membership was not at all representative of the sentiment that existed.

At the same time it is hinted here that the developments may presage a big shake-up in the State Grange itself when that body meets in Lima in December. Governor Cox has repeatedly inveighed against what he terms "standpatism" in agricultural organizations, and the promoters of the referendum have invariably been the butt of the invective. At the same time it is asserted that State Master T. C. Laylin has been deceived by the amount of active sentiment against the measure.

With the departure of the influence of the granges it is inferred that opposition of sportsmen, led by Paul North of Cleveland, former member of the State Fish and Game Commission, will disappear with it.

Owing to one of the numerous blunders of the General Assembly the act will not go into effect when it declares itself in operation. That date is today, but it must await until August 6 before the 90 days under the initiative and referendum have expired. Governor Cox has yet to determine the name of the fourth man for membership on the commission.

MANY ARRESTS PROMISED.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 16.—Prosecutor Locher said here today that there would not be any arrests in the Green law referendum petition cases before tomorrow and possibly not then. He said that State Labor Commissioner Lange, who is here investigating alleged fraudulent petitions, had neglected to bring necessary data from Columbus and that nothing can be done until he has seen this. He was in communication today with Secretary of State Graves, who has charge of petitions which Locher wants to personally examine.

Lange reported today that there will be at least six arrests and possibly eight. He will swear to the warrants. After examining 380 names signed to petitions, he says that only twelve were found to be valid. The remainder were names of dead persons, fictitious, or the names of persons who deny that they ever signed a petition.

THIRTEEN HELD AT CITY PRISON

Another big list of defendants, victims arrested by the police officers during the night, awaited the disposition of their cases by Mayor Swartz Wednesday morning. Thirteen cases were on the arrest record including charges of drunk, fighting, disorderly conduct, train riding and visiting residents. The usual fine of $5 and costs were assessed.
